

Good afternoon Parents,

The recent traumatic event in Parkland, Florida is a horrible situation that is difficult to fathom and may be hard to explain to our children. We would like to share a wonderful resource for you. We have placed a link on our school website to PBS that provides ideas about Talking with Kids about News and Talking to Children about Violence: Tips for Parents. These links are designed to help adults communicate with children after a tragedy. We hope these links will give you ideas as well as provide support for our children during this time.

Thank you,
Mrs. Fleming
